

gill/st bernard's 1983

Is change a germ?
Which does spread.
It comes quietly,
when we pay little heed.
It is rough and affects all, some disappear. The individual holds on.
The very roots of society grow to the tone of change.
We all watch considering new life.
And smoke no longer rises.
Old cloth is replaced.
Where could it stop?
Change is here for all to see.

If you will practice being fictional for a while you will understand that fictional characters are sometimes more real than people with bodies and heartbeats.

Only Those Who Will Risk Going Too Far Can Possibly Find Out How Far One Can Go.

When we leave the world of the child behind,
Only time will tell what we will find.
Here, my friend, we must decide,
As we stand at the fork where the roads divide,
It doesn't matter on which road we go,
For we know that our friendship shall always grow.
We may not always stay together,
But we know our bond will last forever.
Though we may be miles apart,
We are joined as one in the heart.

Friendships that have stood the test-
Time and change are surely best;
Brow may wrinkle, hair grow gray;
Friendship never knows decay.
For'mid old friends, tried and true,
Once more we reach and youth renew.
Cherish friendships in your breast-
New is good, but old is best.

-Joseph Parry

As we go through our journey in life,
We must struggle to triumph over strife.
We must continue to persevere all the while,
On our road we must face each trial.
Our strength increases with each ordeal we overcome,
This will help us to achieve an equilibrium.
This is our quest, this our goal,
To attain wisdom to become whole.

By some magical plan or some mystical

I have a dream, a fantasy to help destination makes it worth the while pushing through the darkness still

You might have heard,
I run with a dangerous crowd.
We ain't too pretty,
We ain't too proud.
We might be laughing
A bit too loud, but that Never hurt no one.

To dream the impossible dream,
To fight the unbeatable foe,
To bear with unbearable sorrow,
To run where the brave dare not go.
To write the unwriteable wrong,
To love pure and chased from afar,
To try when your arms are too weary,
To reach the unreachable star.
This is my quest, to follow that star,
No matter how hopeless, no matter how far.
To fight for the right without question or pause,
To be willing to march into Hell for a heavenly cause.

The Universe is not only queerer than we suppose, it is queerer than we can suppose.

There is a theory that states if the true meaning of the Universe is discovered, it will vanish and will be replaced by something even more inexplicable. There is another theory that states this has already happened.

Discovery consists of seeing what everybody has seen and thinking what none has thought.

There is a coherent plan for the Universe, though I don't know what its a plan for.

The simplest schoolboy is now familiar with truths for which Archimedes would have sacr-ficed his life.

The truth is that those who have never entered scientific pursuits know not a tithe of the poetry by which they are surrounded.

At every crossway on the road that leads to the future, each progressive spirit is opposed by a thousand men appointed to guard the past.

The wave of the future is coming, and there is no fighting it.

The Earth is the cradle of the mind, but man cannot stay in the cradle forever.

Nothing is as beautiful as a true blue moonbeam or the shadow it casts unwavering it guilds cloth it stands silently as a friend unharmed and soft a feather of countless ages you can't rewind it like a noise
 I can't touch it at all or pretend it's artificial blackness of a candle rise-fall and waver through the night Near totally tangible yet the cuticle is a thousand miles away friend of the world and sky
 Stars
 And nothing to you the candle dies
 and in the waiting second the moonbeam smiles itself upon the sill and floor once again
 undisturbed, unoffended, truly a friend.

SPORTS

Soccer

The 1982 Varsity Soccer team had an impressive year with a 7-4-4 record. In spite of early season hardships, new varsity coach Mike Chimes rallied the team mentally and physically. After a tie and three consecutive losses, the team rebounded to lose only one game for the remainder of the season.

This year's returning seniors provided the leadership and experience. Captain Marc Kotler, winger Peter Bourne, defenders Jon Lotz and Jeff Selengut, together with first year varsity seniors T.J. Emmer and Eric Hoffman, gave stability to the squad. Other standout contributors included midfielders Greg Mayer, Steve LaKind, and surprise goalie Wim "I eat worms" Matthijssen.

Though high scorers Aki Kurihara and Greg Mayer provided necessary goals, much credit must go to the halfbacks and defenders. It was their work that kept the opponents to a less than 1 goal/game average over the last 10 games. Though the team lacked big scoring, its record indicates that it did what was necessary to win.

The Junior Varsity Soccer team coached by Jeff Matson finished the season with a 5-0-0 record. Coming off last year's record of 0-9-0, the team managed to earn a record of 4-4-1 this season, scoring a total of 18 goals compared to last year's one. Players Charlie Rappaport, Jens Duerr, and Kenny DeLorenzo will be a definite assets to the varsity team for the 83' season.

Girls' Soccer

The Girls' Varsity Soccer team led by seniors Betsy Manuel, Jessica Wistuk, Nan Glickman, and Melissa Forman posted a respectable 4-5-1 record this year. Seeded sixth in the states, the Lady Saints lost to second seeded Montclair Kimberly team on the opponents field.

With most of the team returning next year, Coach Chivaro anticipates continued success with the girls' program. Captains Jessica Wistuk and Betsy Manuel will leave their experience to Junior Rosalyn Lee who will lead the girls to a victorious 1983 season.

Awards were given to Most Valuable Players Elyse Bryant and Betsy Manuel. Most Improved Players were Rosalyn Lee and Ehren Robinson.

The 1982-83 GSB Football team had a rather disappointing season. Their record of 0 wins and 8 losses raps up the statistical aspect of the season, but leaves out the true potential that exists in the young team. Consisting of only two seniors, Danny Getchman and Phil Botwinick, the Saints made their best attempt to use every bit of talent recognizable by coaches Taylor and Cetrulo. Along with captain Danny Getchman, juniors Adam Larkey and Dan Winer, and sophomores Craig Barberich and Jeff Stessel, attempted to rally the team to an undefeated year, but soon realized that St. Pius, Morristown-Beard, and other opponents had different plans. Coach Taylor is extremely optimistic about next years team. He feels that the experience and practice gained from the past year will help contribute to a successful 1983-84 season. We'll be routing for you Saints next year.

Boys' Basketball

Gill wins, 54-42; Englewood S falls

The 1982-83 GSB Boys' Basketball Team may have suffered through a record of two wins and sixteen losses, but the season was more beneficial than it may have appeared. Throughout the season, new coach Mark Saalfeld was able to keep the team a cohesive unit that worked hard to improve. The improvement of the team really cannot be measured by the final record. Leading scorers Mike Wendell and Steve Lakind, with 256 points and 147 points, respectively, provided the team with the offense to stay alive in the games. Craig Barberich, Wim Matthijssen, and Adam Larkey provided the team with excellent rebounding, and a solid defense. Individual players with no varsity basketball experience prior to the season molded themselves into respectful basketball players.

The credit for these improvements must be partly attributed to the fine coaching technique of coach Mark Saalfeld. Coach Saalfeld never once in the season got down on his young team, and he used the season as a learning experience, realizing that his full squad will be returning next year. The coach has made a huge impact in the Gill basketball program, and the whole team is looking forward to working with him again in the near future.

Saints Snap Loss String

GLADSTONE — After struggling through several losses, the Gill-St. Bernard's School boys' basketball team finally broke into the win column Tuesday night.

In a game played in Gladstone, the Saints defeated St. Mary Doane Academy of Burlington County, 54-42.

First-year coach Mark Saalfeld is hoping his Gill-St. Bernard's eagers can score their first win Friday night when they host Sussex Vo-Tech in Gladstone.

Saddle River's Chilton was just too tall and talented for the inexperienced Saints. Mike Wendell topped Gill-St. Bernard's with 18 points. Saddle River built a 14-6 lead in the first period and steadily added to its margin.

PEAPACK-GLADSTONE — Sussex Vo-Tech (0-6) had four shots at the basket in the closing moments, but all of them misfired to give Gill (1-4) the triumph. Fred Wilhelm of Sussex Vo-Tech led all scorers with 27 points.

The GSB Girls' Basketball team coached by Joanne Chiavaro finished the season with a final record of 8 wins and 10 losses. Although commendable, this record is not a true indication of the team's fine abilities. It does not illustrate the team's excellent ball control, impenetrable defense, and most impressively, their all-around positive attitude. The girls were seeded third in the state tournament B-division and went to the semi-finals before losing. With the help of their All-State B-division player Lisa Napolitan, the girls became a respected force amongst the schools. Junior Rosalyn Lee was outstanding on defense along with junior Virginia Scherer and sophomores Ehren Robinson, Michelle Joy, Laura Ambielli, and Elyse Bryant. Starting player Wendi Katzman was injured earlier in the season, but still kept the team in good spirits. Manager Liz Blom did an excellent job and both she and Coach Chiavaro look forward to next year's season realizing that the full squad will be returning next year to lead Gill down Victory Lane.

Although our team lacked experience — only high-scoring Ken DeLorenzo returned to competition, the G/SB entry in the New Jersey Science League opened the new season enthusiastically.

Vying with teams from most of the secondary schools in the state, our Biology, Chemistry and Physics teams scored well in the opening round at Bernards H.S., despite their highly-stouted cheerleaders, and looked forward to a successful season.

In each subject, four-member teams take a test under the watchful eyes of roving proctors. The examinations are scored immediately while the winners cheer and the losers slink back to their books.

Student Government

Our school, as we well know, has undergone many changes. These changes have affected morale and unity. This made it especially important to form a student government.

The government, for the first time in many years, has a real reason to function. The government was designed to act as a liason between the students and the administration.

When the student government was presented with the question what to do about the lack of spirit they pondered the reinstitution of a smoking privilege. The restrictions on the privilege were worked out by the student government and then presented to the faculty and administration. This was then passed and thus became the first of many successful efforts.

In order to learn more about the many forms of government, their chairman T.J. Emmer and secretary Melissa Forman were sent to a conference of ten schools hosted by Delbarton. This is one of the many ways the government sought to increase its effectiveness.

This year's student government is hopefully but a start for many more in the future. The returning students, along with the administration, will continue to increase it's effectiveness in working for the students and for our school.

. . . has been a constant since the Class of 1983 arrived on the Upper School campus.

Debating some of the changes heated up a chilly December day, but our "town meeting" was far from the only time these issues were discussed. At the end of the meeting we had a revitalized Student Government — and more changes.

Although variations in the academic schedule effected us all directly, much of the discussion revolved around blue jeans and smoking, not horizontals, verticals, units and traditional periods.

Little could be done about the changes in administration, staff and students. Old friends departed. New friends arrived. We changed, and the world about us changed.

Perturbations were even evident in what we ate for lunch and how it was served.

A philosopher said that "without change, it would be impossible to detect the presence of life."

Yet our philosophers say Gill isn't what it used to be. Some, perhaps optimistically, cling to the adage: "The new can overcome the old and rise above it." The number of adherents to this viewpoint increase daily as the flames of pessimism prevalent in September are extinguished.

The new academic schedule provides the opportunity for wide variations in what individuals do during the day. Courses are horizontal, vertical and even come in like the animals — two by two. This divergence in schedules results in forming relationships more slowly, in the opinion of some. There are those who say that the intimacy prevalent in the past is never attained.

The long activity period offers the promise of a surge of campus-wide involvement, but some would prefer to be free during that time.

The "no blue jeans" dress code enhances the appearance of the campus, but time will judge whether "better appearance entails better attitudes." Many feel that dress restrictions inhibit individualism and freedom of expression. Others assert that sufficient outlets for self-expression remain. Ideas, talents, skills, and attitudes — and even clothing made of other cloth — can be manifestations of individuality.

Many argued that the smoking ban instituted in September led to disunity. The renowned blacktop no longer provided the social atmosphere at break which had been part of our school for years. However, many non-smokers are offended by the idea that smoking establishes community. While the short-lived rule lasted, it was evident that many people were elsewhere.

In January, the rule died with the old year. The regulations which replaced it were one of the first actions of the new Student Government.

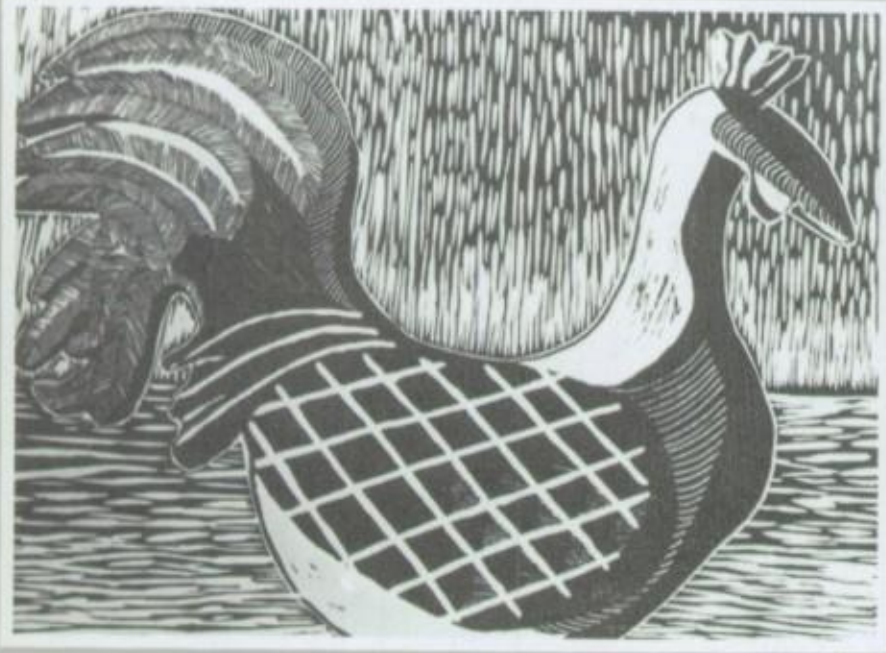

Those who again gathered on the blacktop could see two major physical changes on the campus: the new theater and the grassy patch which replaced the old tennis court.

There is almost universal agreement that attitudes have changed significantly during the year. Whether the change is for better or for worse depends on who is doing the judging. To old timers, Gill seems less warm and friendly than it was in the past. More recent arrivals on the campus seen convinced that the good attributes far outweigh the bad.

As always, the future will be the final judge.
